assignment 3

Part one

The readings/speakers in part four in the christian G.Appy book called Patriots, I chose for the "turning point" are samual huntington quote "you had to be pretty stupied to stay out in the countryside."

Tom O' Hara his quote was "it was like being in minimum-security prison."

Huynh Phuong Dong, "reciveing a letter was mixed blessings," was his quote.

Then there's Larry Colburn and his quote was "they were butching people."

Wayne smith quoted "I was thanking god they didn't have air support."

Nguyen Ngoc Luong quote was "an acute was lack of forgetfulness."

Tom Grace, the quote he used was "as much as we hated the war on april 29, we hated it more on april 30!"

then there was Tran Van Tan,"he vasked me for diections to the police station."

"he was only 19-did you know him?" quoted Clark Dougan.

Now, after i mentioned all the speakers i chose from part 4,the best example of a 'turning point".I would have to say it was the speaker Tran Van Tan,he was the one who spoke about 'tet".

Tran van tan's turning point was when him and the other troops were having a difficult time deciding what to do at the time of the war. He said if they stop doing what they are doing things would go in one direction,so of course tran told everyone that if they all did just alittle more and made alittle more effort and won a few more victories,they would bring about a qualitative change and things would go in another direction. So that's what they did.They fought back proudly.Now the decisive turning point of the war had been created that day in the war.

A difficult route had been traversed with excellent effort and they all came together and used their strengths and traveled the remaining of the distance.

The reasoning of me choosing the speaker tran van tan, in regards of his turning point and how he made his big turn, tran van tan made his turn when him and the others were about to throw their hands in the air and give up.

because he wasn't giving all his strength and courage in this. nothing he was doing was working out the way everyone thought it would. So he finally figured out a way to reverse the difficult route and he made great effort in doing so, this is why and how he made his big turn.

Part 2

The account in part 5, I would have to say John McCain, his ending was when he was captured by the Vietnamese and put in prison. while he was in there all he did was make fun of the guards and told movies to other prisoners, he said he told millions of movies some he didn't even watch. but he said he had to keep a sense of humor in there to survive. and that hopefully our country wouldn't forget about him. so I think his ending was the day he was captured by the Vietnamese.
