67 🗣️ The Confederate constitution was almost identical to the Constitution of the United States. And the importance of the Constitution's role in this war cannot be understated, because both sides used the same document to support their position. The Confederacy viewed the document as limiting the power of the federal government, especially the 10th Amendment, reserving all non-enumerated powers to the states. Lincoln, on the other hand, held the belief, like George Washington and Andrew Jackson before him, that no state possessed the right to leave the union. Unlike the government under the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution of 1789
